

Fiinnovation partners with CII for conference on growth through education and entrepreneurship

- India is geared up to become the "Entrepreneurial Capital" of the world
- To understand the importance of the Indian value of pluralism and equalistic well - being
- Affirmative Action has followed 'Economic Revolution'

4th November, 2015

New Delhi, 4th November 2015: Fiinnovation collaborated as the technical partners in the CII organized conference 'Bridging the Gap-Fostering growth through Education and Entrepreneurship' held on 4th November, 2015 at India Habitat Centre, New Delhi. The conference established a platform for pioneers from various industries to share their thoughts on the topic.

In the inaugural session, Mr. Soumitro Chakraborty, CEO, Fiinnovation brought attention to the Indian value system of pluralism and responsibility. He highlighted that the next economic revolution in the country would be driven by two supportive pillars of education and entrepreneurship. While, he praised the Government of India for various initiatives for providing equal opportunities to all sections of the society, he also motivated corporations to extend their support by linking Affirmative Action with their CSR initiatives and join hands in nation building.

During the inaugural session, Mr. Bhaskar Chatterjee, the Director General & CEO of Indian Institute of Corporate Affairs (IICA) professed a top-down approach to be practiced in organizations leading to a nation's GDP growth.

The intense discussions included eminent speakers such as Mr. Kartik Bharat Ram, Mr. Milind Kamble, Mr. Chandrabhan Prasad and Mr. D. K. Sundar who brought the role of affirmative action through promotion of entrepreneurial ventures, leading to proportionate increase in family incomes of all sections of society.

The one day conference brought to notice, the need to bridge the gap between affluent and marginalised sections of the society and focus on inclusive development. The proceedings of the forum was concluded with an emphasis on promotion of education and economic empowerment that leads to building a stronger nation.

Contact Us:

To learn more about this conference, please contact: